GOOD NEWS DISCUSSED

CITIZENS OF ONE MIND IN REJOICING OVER THE PEARL HARBOR BILL.

The favorable report from Washington, regarding the bill for Pearl Harbor, has caused a good deal of talk about town relative to the good that will come to the Territory by the measure.

Every one has a very optimistic view on the subject, and nearly every one that has been approached on the subject feels that Hawaii has a great deal to be thankful for, providing that the bill passes the Senate.

P. C. Jones, in speaking this morning on the subject, stated that it was one of the best things that has ever happened here since the islands have been under the American flag.

"We are going to see the benefit in any number of ways," he continued, "business is going to increase, real estate is going to be on the boom.

A large number of good American citizens are coming to help build the station, and we will see the good in many different forms.

"I think that we should have such a station here, as we are miles away from the mainland, and in the event of any trouble with a foreign power we will be protected, as the Navy department is bound to keep some ships here all the time. I have always felt that we would get the appropriation in the end, but it has come sooner than I expected.

"I think that the Rapid Transit Co. will have to build a line there to take care of the people who will live here in town, but who will be down at Pearl Harbor during the day.

There are many acres of land that are not being used at present, that will be built on just as soon as the operations of building commence.

"It will mean a large additional white vote here, as the men who are employed in the Navy yards are always very much interested in politics. I think that Hawaii has a good deal to be thankful for in many ways over this good news about Pearl Harbor, and the sooner the work starts the better it will be for every one."

James F. Morgan, President of the Chamber of Commerce, in talking about the matter this morning remarked: "I have always thought that we were going to get the appropriation, and I think that the different commercial bodies in Honolulu, as well as our many friends away who have helped us, deserve a good deal of credit.

"There have been many obstacles to overcome in Congress, but when you realize that only one dissenting vote was heard, it speaks very well for the way people away feel toward Hawaii.

"Our Delegate in Washington, Prince Cupid, our representatives in Washington, F. M. Hatch, the President, Secretary Straus and many others have made up their minds to have Pearl Harbor, and they have won a wonderful victory.

"Business is going to feel the result of the bill just as soon as the work is started, and I think that in every way Hawaii is going to realize that she has won a great victory."

SAUKA'S REASONS

Sheriff Sauka in talking this morning about closing up Iwilei stated that the reason for his action last night was simply this: "I had been under the impression that the citizens of Hawaii were against the closing of that district but when nothing further was done I decided that the only thing to do was to follow out the wishes of the Ministerial Union and the Civic Federation and to close the place. I still feel that public sentiment is against the closing of the district, but as I took oath to see that the law was carried out I had nothing else to do. I think that the commercial bodies in town should take the matter up, and I also think that the Grand Jury should make public their findings."

to take charge of the work of the Boys' Club, now affiliated with the Y. M. C. A. Mr. O'Brien has had charge of the boys' department of the Dublin Y. M. C. A. for four years, after which he came to America and spent a year in the Y. M. C. A. training school at Springfield, Mass. From there he went to Buffalo, N. Y., to take charge of the boys' work of the Y. M. C. A.; then to Brooklyn, as superintendent of the Boys' Welcome Hall.

PRIMARY LAW

election the inspector having charge of the ballots shall hand him one each of the Territorial and County tickets of the party to which the elector belongs, folded in the following manner: Bring the bottom of the ballot up to the top for one fold and repeat the operation until the ballot is sufficiently small to go conveniently into the ballot box.

The voter shall retire forthwith into the voting booth without opening the ballot until he is hidden from view.

After marking his ballot he shall re-fold the same in the same folds as when he received it and hand it to the inspector having charge of the ballot boxes. Should a voter spoil a ballot he shall have another furnished him.

Section 10. After counting the votes as in ordinary elections, the inspectors shall transmit the result as to Territorial officers, to the Secretary of the Territory, and as to County officers to the Clerk of the County in which the precinct is situated.

"Nominations made in the manner herein prescribed shall entitle the candidates chosen to have their names placed on the official ballots to be prepared by the Secretary and County Clerk respectively, as provided by law without the payment of any additional fee.

"Section 11. No person who has signed a consent to have his name placed before the direct primary shall be allowed to run as an independent candidate at the election for which the nominations of said primary were made.

"Section 12. Voting for more than the proper number of names to be chosen for any particular office shall not invalidate the remaining part of such ballot. No ballot shall be rejected on account of distinguishing marks thereon unless such marks were made with the palpable intention of causing the same to be recognized."

VAUDEVILLE TONIGHT

Get ready for the last two Lilliputian nights, and get your tickets early, for there is going to be one grand rush for seats at the last minute, when people suddenly realize that these little people are going to leave.

Those who are up in theatrical affairs are confidently predicting a greater success in these two nights of vaudeville than in the previous plays, and give many excellent and scientific reasons to account for it. But what do the people care for the "reason why."

As someone said when "playing" first began: "The play's the thing!" And in this case, it's going to be all play for these clever little actors, a chance to disport themselves in their specialties without going through the fatigue and strain of a regular performance.

There are two nights left, the best of them all. Don't miss them, or you'll wish that you hadn't.

"LISTEN TO THE BAND."

(Communicated.)

Result of going to the Orpheum one evening and reading the "Scandalizer" the next morning:

Oh listen to the band

Hear its jealous crazy play

Hard to understand.

What they really mean to say.

Oh listen to its howl,

Hear its frenzied yapping bark

With its slaps and heavy bangs

From its hard and ponderous hands.

Oh listen to the "Tiser" on the harp.

Oh listen to the band

Just one nickel's all you pay

To see the noble stand

Taken up by them each day.

Oh listen to the growl

From a sour and blighted heart.

If they do not love you well

They consign you straight to—(drum)

Listen to the "Tiser" on the harp.
